Viking Band Performs At Disneyland

BY JACQUELINE RENDON

After days of practice and waiting the day finally came and the Viking Band of Pride left to Disneyland. They met at the band room at 4 a.m. and were on the road by 5 a.m. They arrived at Disney at around 10 a.m. and had time to get on rides before the parade. They later were led backstage to change and get ready for the parade. They took their group picture and did their warm ups. At 3:30 p.m. they began to march. They marched through Main Street playing "On Broadway" and doing their routine. When they finished they changed back to their clothes and gathered around to receive their plaque and their drawstring bags.

Once they were dismissed back to the park at around 4:30 p.m., band members were allowed to get on more rides and to get something to eat. They had the rest of the time which was from 4:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. to be at the park. When it was time they all met at the front to get ready to leave. They arrived home at 3:30 a.m. and were able to check in to school at 12 noon.

This was for sure an amazing experience for all the members in the band.

When talking to Ms. Moreno, the band director, about their performance she said, "From the shields to the percussion, the Band of Pride looked and sounded the best I have heard and seen them all year. This is indeed what it is all about; taking everything you have been taught and putting it all together to put on the performance of a lifetime. The word "pride" beamed throughout this performance and I certainly could not be any more proud than I was on April 30, 2018. Thank you, Viking Band of Pride, you are the best and I am proud of you!"

See page 7 for more photos and articles on what's happening at Holtville High School.

THE HOLTVILLE HIGH SCHOOL Viking Band of Pride was invited to perform at Disneyland last week, marching down the magical kingdom's famed Main Street on April 30 performing the group's signature song On Broadway.

4-H Summer Programs Open To Kids

Summer vacation is right around the corner, and that means most kids will have a lot of free time on their hands.

No Foul Play Suspected In Death In Local Park

Investigators don't suspect foul play in the death of a young man whose body was discovered in a local park Tuesday morning. The death is tentatively being labeled a suicide, pending an autopsy. The body was discovered in Mac Park on the east end of town

Poppy Fund For American Legion Begins This May

A tradition is returning to Holtville the month of May 2018. American Legion Auxiliary member of Bradley Keffer Unit 138 will be distributing poppies for donations to the public, family and friends. All contributions from the Poppy Fund go directly for the rehabilitation of Veterans honorably discharged from the United States Armed Forces, Veterans Active duty military personnel and their families where financial and medical need is evident. Donation locations will be held on Friday, May 11, 2018 at Donut Shop, DePaoli's Property, Rotary Club and other locations around town. The red crepe poppy flowers are made by disabled Veterans and offered every May by the Auxiliary members. The poppy flowers was selected because many of the World War I Veterans remembered them on the fields of Europe. The poppy came to symbolize the sacrifice Veterans made. The red reminded the doughboys of the blood that had been shed. The poppies seemed to bloom, even on the shelled battlefields, and became a sign of hope and renewal for those who survived. All donations are gratefully accepted. To make a donation, please mail to: Bradley Keffer Unit 138, P.O. Box 836 Holtville, CA 92250 For more information, please contact Poppy Fund Chairman Karen Gibbs at (760) 356-5408.

Car Show Set For Saturday

Members of the Holtville Car Club will be hosting their own car show this Saturday in Holt Park. This will be the fifth year for the Holtville Car Show, put together by the club as a way not just to show off their own vehicles to the public but as a way of reaching out to fellow owners throughout the southwest. Local car buffs benefit as well, getting to take in a first class show without having to leave town. The show takes place from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in and around Holt

Park. Registration begins at 7 a.m. and lasts until the official start of the show. The event is open to those with cars and trucks of any year. Categories of vehicles expected to be on hand include classics, customs, lowriders, hot rods, motorcycles, pedal cars and bicycles. There will be trophies galore ready to pass out to winners. Along with the regular awards in the different categories, there will be trophies for the car club bringing the most vehicles, for the owner that travels the farthest and for the Best in Show. A mayor's trophy is something that many car shows have but the Holtville Car Club wanted to do things a little different and will instead have the Sheriff's Choice, picked by the head of local law enforcement. The real winners will be a couple of graduating seniors at Holtville High School, since the event serves as a fundraiser for scholarships the club gives away to deserving students every year.

Postal Food Drive This Saturday

Every second Saturday in May, letter carriers in more than 10,000 cities and towns across America collect the goodness and compassion of their postal customers, who participate in the NALC Stamp Out Hunger National Food Drive — the largest one-day food drive in the nation. Led by letter carriers represented by the National Association of Letter Carriers (AFL-CIO), with help from rural letter carriers, other postal employees and other volunteers, the drive has delivered more than one billion pounds of food the past 24 years. Carriers collect non-perishable food donations left by mailboxes and in post offices and deliver them to local community food banks, pantries and shelters. Nearly 1,500 NALC branches in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands are involved. The United States Postal Service, National Association of Letter Carriers, National Rural Letter Carriers' Association, AFL-CIO, Feeding America, United Way, Valassis and Valpak Direct Marketing Systems are all supporting this year's Stamp Out Hunger food drive. To donate, just place a box or can of non-perishable food next to your mailbox before your letter carrier delivers mail on the second Saturday in May. The carrier will do the rest. The food is sorted, and delivered to an area food bank or pantry, where it is available for needy families. With 49 million people facing hunger every day in America, including nearly 16 million children, this drive is one way you can help those in your own city or town who need help.

4-H Camps...from front page

evenings from 5:30 to 8 pm and open to all ages. 4-H has an event coming up this month as well. You've heard of mud runs, color runs, and glow runs, but this will be an inflatable run. 4-H will be bringing not one but three giant, 200-foot long inflatable obstacle courses to the Tractor Supply parking lot on May 19. This will be a limited space event so everyone is encouraged to sign up now. Participants should wear clothes and shoes that can get dirty because 4-H will bringing a new twist. Being hosted by the Color Me Green Healthy Living Officers may be a clue at to what the surprise will be.

Celebration Of Education Rouses Cutting Edge Instruction For All

BY WILLIAM ROLLER

The accent at the Imperial County Office of Education's third annual Celebration of Education tapped into the ever-shifting dynamic of global engagement to maintain the competitiveness of local students.

Held May 3 at the Jimmie Cannon Theater for the Performing Arts, the event's theme was access and innovation. "That means quality programs such as STEM (science, technology, engineering, math), fine and performing arts," explained Todd Evangelist, ICOE director of development and community relations. "Let's make it accessible to all students, not just those in certain zip codes."

Evangelist also praised the 11 school districts that supported higher property taxes to fund school capital-improvement projects. The move is expected to raise $220 million locally and the expected state match would bring total funding to $440 million for county public schools over the next five to six years.

It was wonderful evening to revel in what is so right about county schools, remarked Todd Finnell, Imperial County superintendent of schools. He said he is blessed to work with people who support ICOE's mission and comprehensive success embracing not just academic achievement but nurturing strong, positive relationships among teachers, student and administrators.

"We're really talking about access to opportunity for all students especially when it comes to closing the achievement gap among low-income students--access means equal participation in all programs," said Finnell.

He praised Ben Hulse Elementary School in Imperial for its initiative of small group instruction, after school tutoring, summer programs and close collaboration among teachers. Finnell equally praised Finley Elementary School in Holtville that recently showed a 10-percent reduction in the homework gap among low-income students through parent involvement, which was vital in stimulating critical thinking skills in their children.

The Tradition of Mother's Day

BY CAROL HANN

In many countries of the world, a day that pays tribute to mothers is recognized in various months, but most commonly it is in either March or May. The tribute paid to mothers in the United States on this day does not have its roots in Roman or Greek history.

The establishment of Mother's Day in the United States is credited to the efforts of Anna Jarvis of West Virginia, who, in 1908, held a memorial service for her mother, Anne Reeves Jarvis. For her mother, the daughter purchased hundreds of carnations, which were her mother's favorite flower.

Jarvis' mother Ann had cared for wounded soldiers who had fought on both sides of the Civil War. This humanitarian activist started Mother's Day Work Clubs to help in addressing public health issues.

After her mother's death, Jarvis wanted to honor her mother and have a day designated where all mothers could be honored because she believed " a mother is the person who has done more for you than anyone in the world."

Jarvis tirelessly lobbied state and national politicians to pass laws that would insure there would be a specific day that would provide recognition to mothers.

On May 8, 1914 Congress passed a law stipulating the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day. The next day President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed the first Mother's Day as a day to honor mothers who had lost sons in various wars.

Jarvis was adamant that the word "Mother's should be a singular possessive, for each family to honor its own mother, not a plural possessive commemorating all mothers in the world." The spelling of Mother's Day as Jarvis' preference was used by President Woodrow Wilson in his 1914 proclamation and in various proclamations and mention by United States presidents.

Mother's Day has become a commercialized holiday with the selling of flowers, jewelry, cards, phone calls, candy, and dinners for mom. Jarvis decried the profits various entrepreneurs were making from what she had intended to be a simple holiday to honor a mother. She felt that mothers should be honored through handmade cards or handwritten letters.

In the last century many nations adopted a Mother's Day celebration based upon what had been done in America. It is reported that the holiday is celebrated in over 50 nations. The holiday does have different meanings, is celebrated at different times, and frequently is affiliated with history, legendary, or religious events. Some countries do honor a mother, but since the introduction of Mother's Day in the United States, residents in those countries have adopted a custom of giving a gift to mother or honoring her in another commercialized fashion.

Anna Jarvis died in 1948 at the age of 84. Her legacy and that of of her mother should never be forgotten. Themes surrounding this thankful day honoring mothers are social action, reconciliation, peace, compassion, and honor.

It is not unusual for main telephone lines to be kept busy on the second Sunday of May and for local restaurants to have long waiting lines as thanks and tributes are given to mothers.

ANNA JARVIS PURCHASED carnations for her mother's memorial, as mentioned in the above Mother's Day article. POSTCARD FROM CAROL HANN COLLECTION

Holtville High Career Day

Holtville High School Career Day was Friday, April 27th. Long time HHS librarian, Mary Sperber, organized the event. She contacted presenters, set up schedules, and kept the event running smoothly throughout the day.

Sperber said, "Three of our presenters are Green and Gold Hall of Fame recipients Judge Lehman, Jeff Magin and Jack Vessey. By coming to HHS they are helping to contribute to the community of Holtville."

The morning was capped with a BBQ lunch for students. Food for presenters and mouse pads commemorating the event were donated by the Green and Gold Hall of

"I'd like to thank Margie Stacey, Rosemarie Von Flue and students Landry Guillen and Andrew Pacheco for all their help that day." said event organizer Mary Sperber.

Law Enforcement Memorial Poignant Tribute To Deceased

BY WILLIAM ROLLER

The Imperial Valley Law Enforcement Memorial began with a majestic motorcade past the county courthouse steps in El Centro commemorating those peace officers who gave their lives in the line of duty.

The 10th annual event on May 4 honored officers from the U.S. Border Patrol to the California Department of Fish and Game and more. Serving as master of ceremonies was Alvaro Ramirez, executive commander of the El Centro Police Department.

Stating his highest respect for the officer on the street, Walter Colace, El Centro police chaplain, remarked he was privileged to direct prayer at the ceremony. He noted residents' hearts are full of gratitude for the sacrifice officers make for the protection of communities.

"Yet our hearts carry sadness for those lost to defend the citizenry," said Colace. "We are joined by the survivors of those we honor today; 41 fallen in Imperial County since 1920. But we pray that not another officer is lost in the line of duty."

Border Patrol El Centro Sector Chief Gloria Chavez offered condolences to survivors for their courage in persevering. Although she is among the newest to the local law enforcement community, Chavez remarked the Imperial Valley is special place she has come to know.

"We continue to answer the call of duty regardless of the consequences," said Chavez. "We aid the less fortunate and the defenseless; that's our duty. The heroes we honor here gave their all, so we could be here today."

Chavez pointed out families of officers are as strong as those who pin on the badge, and justice will rise on the day when it will no longer be necessary to hold such as ceremony.

Commentary was also offered by Julie Gaddis whose grandfather, Walter Lee Henry, an Imperial County Sheriff's Office deputy, died in the line of duty in 1944.

Gaddis paraphrased former President Ronald Reagan at a mil-

Julia Ann (Barthelme) Cowman

Long-time Holtville resident and teacher, Julia Ann (Barthelme) Cowman, age 90, passed away on Tuesday, April 24, 2018 at her residence in Mesa, AZ. She was preceded in death by her husbands' Hugo Barthelme in 1968 and William Cowman in 2010. Julia is survived by a loving family; Stephen Barthelme and his wife Peggy Samaha, Scott Barthelme and his wife Susan, Patricia Rank and Jeff Barthelme along with 11 grandchildren, 17 great-grandchildren and her sister, Margaret Zeches.

Julia was born in Cresco, Iowa on April 4, 1928, the daughter of Jeffrey and Irene Rogers. She grew up in Monona, Iowa and graduated from Iowa State University. She taught at several high schools in Iowa for ten years before packing up the family to move to Holtville CA to accept a teaching position that she held there until retiring in 1988. Julia dedicated her life to teaching and raising a family that for many years, she had to manage alone due to the sudden death of her husband Hugo Barthelme at an early age. She was an exceptional junior high English teacher for almost 40 years and was committed to providing a memorable learning experience to any student that passed through her classroom.

After retiring to Palm Springs, CA, Julia donated much of her time to help teach English to immigrants wanting to learn the language. Julia was an avid reader and baseball fan, especially enjoying her trips with family to spring training games while living her final years in Mesa, AZ. Always known for her independent spirit and demanding teaching approach, Julia impacted the lives of so many people over the years with her intelligence, kindness and dry sense of humor. She will be dearly missed and long remembered by her large extended family, friends and many former students. Julia was very much devoted to her Catholic faith and her commitment to helping others.

A memorial mass service is scheduled to take place at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Holtville, CA on Saturday, May 19th at 9:00 AM with a reception in the church hall to follow. Interment will be at a later date in Evergreen cemetery in El Centro CA.

He worked for Ted Miller Hay Company as a hay buyer from 1973 to 1983 before starting Menvielle Hay Company. In 1988 he acquired Quality Scales on Dogwood Road in El Centro and operated both his hay brokerage business and truck weighing business until he became ill in 2017.

Ralph was a member of Imperial County Farm Bureau, served two terms on the Imperial Irrigation District Board of Directors, was an alternate for LAFCO, served on the School Site Council for Central Union High School and was a Calvary Chapel board member.

Ralph is survived by his wife of 40 years, Sharon Schneider-Menvielle, El Centro, his sons and daughter-in-law Joshua Menvielle, John Clifford Menvielle and Jordan and Sara Menvielle, all of San Diego. Brothers and sister-in-laws John Pierre and Genevieve Menvielle and Robert and Marianne Menvielle, all of El Centro. Mother-in-law Effie Schneider-Ligons, sister-in-law and brother-in-law Debbie and John Schneider-Burquist all of El Centro and brother-in-law and sister-in-law Clifford and Jarene Schneider, Holtville. Nephews Justine Burquist, San Diego, Jeffery Burquist, El Centro and numerous nieces, nephews and cousins.

Ralph was preceded in death by his parents, John F. and Marscia Menvielle, brother Joseph R. Menvielle and brother-in-law Dennis Schneider.

Ralph enjoyed his annual family vacations at the "happiest place on earth", Disneyland. A highlight for Ralph this past year was riding in the Calexico Christmas Parade along with members of the Menvielle Family who served as the Grand Marshals for the 2017 Calexico Christmas Parade.

Ralph was well known as a hard working perfectionist, an energetic individual and most of all a man with a caring spirit. Ralph made a great impact on the Imperial Valley and will be greatly missed.

A "Celebration of Ralph's Life" will be held on Saturday May 12 at 10:00 a.m., at Calvary Chapel Church, 1923 Austin Road, El Centro, California.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the El Centro Calvary Chapel Church, Dee's Animal Rescue or the Humane Society of Imperial County. Matthew 25:23.

Following the speeches was the presentation of the rider-less horse with empty boots in the stirrups. The custom has its roots in antiquity, explained Ramirez. Also known as a caparisoned horse, it is part of military honors given an officer who was a colonel or higher in rank and includes the president and the secretary of defense in a funeral where the horse follows the caisson carrying the casket. "Walter fell at just 46 years old, but we honor his life by placing our hopes and dreams in support of your families," she told the audience.

Also commemorating a loved one was Sharon Flynt whose husband, Robert, a Fish and Game officer, fell in the line of duty in 1984.

"It's a wonderful way to remember our husbands," she said. "It recalls all the wonderful memories of 18 years of marriage that blessed us with two remarkable children."

FRIDAY, MAY 4

WAKE UP, YOU'VE GOT COMPANY: At 4:29 a.m. a man standing on the sidewalk on East Ninth Street was questioned by deputies. He said he was waiting for someone at the house there, who deputies found was not at home. The man was sent on his way after a check showed he wasn't wanted for anything.

SET IT BUT DIDN'T LOCK UP: At 5:57 p.m. the burglar alarm was reported to have been tripped in the community room at the apartments in the 900 block of Holt Avenue. A deputy found the door unlocked and accidentally set the alarm off again when entering. No one was around so he made sure the room was secure and the door was locked.

SATURDAY, MAY 5

Border Patrol News

Sex Offenders Arrested

Border Patrol agents arrested two convicted sex offenders in Calexico within the last week, and one of them had his brother arrested at the same time.

The first arrest was in downtown Calexico last Friday night.

Around 11 p.m., agents observed the man jump over the international border fence and was arrested shortly after. The man was transported to El Centro Station for identification and processing.

Record checks identified the man as Clemente Zazueta Lizarraga, a 37-year-old Mexican national. Agents learned Zazueta had been previously arrested for Mischievous/Lewd or Lascivious acts with a minor and a count of second-degree burglary in Merced County in Nov. 2005. Ultimately, Zazueta was convicted and received 12 months in jail and 36 months probation.

Zazueta was processed for Re-Entry After Removal.

"On a daily basis, our agents continue to arrest and remove threats like this from our communities," said Assistant Chief Patrol Agent David S. Kim.

Border Patrol agents arrested two brothers with prior convictions on Monday afternoon in Calexico.

At around 4:30 p.m., agents arrested the brothers after they were suspected of making an illegal entry into the United States. The men were later identified as Jesus Alvarez-Rabadan and Juan Carlos Alvarez, both of whom are Mexican nationals.

Records checks revealed that both brothers had committed crimes in Yakima, Washington for which they both served time in prison.

Juan Carlos Alvarez served 21 months for Possession of a Firearm during a drug crime and served 60 months for Use of a Firearm during a drug crime.

Jesus Alvarez-Rabadan, an aggravated felon and convicted rapist, was sentenced to 60 months minimum to life for Rape of a Child in Yakima.

Both men are being charged with violations of federal law.

"Both of these individuals are a menace to our communities," said Kim. "Thanks to the men and women of the Border Patrol, neither of these two individuals will get an opportunity to find their way back to a community like Yakima, Washington to victimize others."

In fiscal year 2018, El Centro Sector has arrested 16 sex offenders.

Interventional Radiology in the Imperial Valley

The field of Interventional Radiology has been in constant development for over fifty years, following the pioneering work of Dr. Charles Dotter, who is credited with being the first physician to perform angioplasty of an artery in the leg for peripheral artery disease. Since that time, the field has developed many new techniques to treat all sorts of diseases, including cancer treatments (and cures), stopping bleeding after a major trauma, dialysis maintenance, gastrointestinal interventions, women's health, musculoskeletal interventions, and of course peripheral artery disease in patients suffering from chronic leg pain with risk of amputation. These are only a few of the topics in patient care that an Interventional Radiologist can be involved in, with many more treatments available for many different types of diseases.

Drs. Shahrouz Tahvilian and George Rapp are Imperial Valley's only two Interventional Radiologists at Pioneers Memorial Hospital who are currently providing Interventional Radiology services to the county. Since late 2016, Pioneers Memorial Hospital has embarked on building a strong Interventional Radiology service for the people of Imperial County, with many of the services previously only available in San Diego now being performed right here in Brawley. Many patients can now be treated close to home without having to travel to San Diego for care.

One of the services that has recently made headlines with a New York Times Magazine article on women's health is Uterine artery embolization for the treatment of uterine fibroids. Uterine artery embolization or UAE has been an integral part of the treatment of uterine fibroids for over 20 years. It is a procedure that has been developed and fine tuned and by interventional radiologists for the treatment of symptomatic uterine fibroids in patients of any age range who suffer from chronic pelvic pain, severe bleeding, gastrointestinal and urinary symptoms and so on. It has developed into a viable alternative to the traditional treatment for uterine fibroids, namely, uterine hysterectomy.

In the past, patients suffering from uterine fibroids and chronic pain had no alternative but to undergo invasive hysterectomies with recovery times extending into several weeks. For young patients who seek to maintain a level of fertility, a hysterectomy became more than just a simple procedure, but a decision to remove their uterus and stop their symptoms or choose to keep their uterus but suffer from the debilitating symptoms associated with uterine fibroids. With the development of uterine artery embolization, a patient is able to keep her uterus while achieving symptomatic relief from her uterine fibroids. Recovery time is also significantly reduced, with an average return to daily activity of 7-10 days versus up to 3-6 weeks for traditional hysterectomy. These are only some of the advantages of uterine artery embolization, which is able to effectively kill a woman's fibroids without significantly harming the uterus or ovaries.

The procedure can be performed on an outpatient basis, and is currently being performed at Pioneers Memorial Hospital. The procedure is relatively short, lasting around an hour or two. It is minimally invasive and involves a small catheter that is inserted through an artery in the groin. X-ray imaging is used to guide the small catheter into the uterine arteries within the pelvis itself without of her having to cut the patient open. Using x-rays and contrast, small beads are inserted into the artery supplying the uterus which then cut the blood supply to the uterine fibroids resulting in fibroid death. The uterus is able to recover quickly from the procedure and patient's often spend less than one day in the hospital before being discharged home for a recovery lasting approximately 1 week. Most patient's feel significantly better within the first month following the procedure and achieve near complete symptom relief within 3 months after the procedure.

Uterine artery embolization has become a viable alternative to traditional hysterectomy and is being used more often in patients who wished to maintain their fertility or those who do not wish to undergo invasive procedure where the uterus is removed. You can learn more about this procedure by contacting the Interventional Radiology Office of Drs. Shahrouz Tahvilian and George Rapp at Pioneers Memorial Hospital, located at 751 W. Legion Road, Suite 302 Brawley, CA 92227. You can also call the office directly to speak with one of the staff for consultation. Office (760) 351-4999.

Over the next several months, we will highlight many more of the treatments that Interventional Radiology provides and that are now being performed at Pioneers Memorial Hospital.

Teacher Switches Subjects Easily

BY ESTEVAN MARTINEZ

The Holtville school year has had new teachers teaching classes that needed to be filled. Some were new employees and others were teachers that were teaching a different subject. An example of a teacher switching subjects is Benjamin Williams. He was a math teacher and is now currently teaching world history. Williams attended night classes at an extension of Chapman University. The main classes were in Orange County, but he took classes in San Diego. I asked Williams if he volunteered to be a history teacher or if he was approached. He got a job as a math teacher when employed at HHS; he then asked to teach history after a former history teacher, Mr. DeLoach, retired this past year. Mr. Williams taught history at Chula Vista High School.

However his first assignment was to be a math teacher. He taught math for eight years.

His class starts off with a warm up, then he does a powerpoint presentation about the subject he is teaching. Then the remaining time the class would read an article, write about history, or watch a video that is related to history.

Mr. Williams uses before and after school to prepare for his next classes. Mr. Williams likes to teach history better than math because he is more interested in history so he believes that he brings more enthusiasm to the class. Mr Williams' favorite time in history is the modern times from WWII to present. He finds it a more interesting and knowing this history helps you understand the world much better.

The last question asked was if he is excited to teach history in the future after understanding his first year teaching at HHS. Mr. Williams is excited and thinks that he can improve, looking to do so next school year. Mr. Williams is also looking into a graduate program for history and is actually looking forward to learning more himself. Mr. Williams also said that one day he would like to teach history at college.

Funding Cities Want Might Be A Year Away

BY GARY REDFERN
Business Buzz Reporter

A final decision on a state Assembly bill that would inject millions into local affordable housing and redevelopment projects might be delayed a year due to wrangling over its structure and to await the departure of Gov. Jerry Brown who might oppose it, observers speculated.

The Redevelopment Law of 2018 is joint-authored by Assembly Member Eduardo Garcia, whose district includes Imperial County. It would again allow cities and counties to establish redevelopment agencies to fund housing, transportation and infrastructure projects.

The local entities would be termed "redevelopment and housing infrastructure agencies." The funding would come from a portion of local property taxes the bill would allow the local redevelopment agencies to access. A similar funding mechanism was used by a previous state redevelopment program.

The bill has passed the Assembly Committee on Housing and Community Development. Next, it is expected to be considered by the Assembly Appropriations Committee, according to an e-mail from Garcia Communications Director Aurora Saldivar.

However, the bill is not expected to be in the 2018-19 state budget that takes effect July 1 and instead would be part of the 2019-20 budget, Saldivar reported.

"We are trying to work on a proposal that will be ready to go next year (2019-20). But if there is an opening with the Governor this year (2018-19) we will take it," Saldivar's e-mail stated.

While lauded by officials of cash-strapped local cities, there has been pushback from influential groups at the state level. A major sticking point is how the redevelopment agencies would collect the local property taxes used to finance their projects.

The League of California Cities has pegged the bill "watch" on its website, cities.org. The California State Association of Counties initially opposed the bill.

While some recent bill revisions has CSAC prepared to withdraw its opposition, that still does not mean a fast track, said Dorothy Johnson, a CSAC legislative representative.

"We're using this year to build consensus. It looks better for 2019-20," Johnson said referring to the state budget for the fiscal year that begins July 1, 2019.

Meanwhile, Dan Carrigg, a

Cities League lobbyist, said, "A lot of people think this governor is not ready to sign off."

Brown was the primary driver behind ending the state's previous redevelopment program in 2012 amid a post-recession fiscal crisis and concerns over its financial management.

Brown's second term ends in January 2019 and under the state term-limits law he is prohibited from seeking a third term. A large field of candidates is seeking to succeed him.

Officials from counties and cities statewide lamented the passing of the former redevelopment agencies. Indeed, it fueled some of El Centro's most visible pre-recession development, including the Imperial Valley Honda dealership near Eighth Street and Wake Avenue, Fire Station #3 at Waterman and Bradshaw avenues and several large apartment complexes.

As such, it is no surprise local cities are eager to see funding for such projects again available. It would help with a housing scarcity that is fueling homelessness and be the catalyst for job-creating developments, said El Centro City Manager Marcela Piedra.

"If there is a big gap (left by the end of redevelopment agencies), it is affordable housing" she said, adding, "Now we get inquiries from developers and we don't have any money."

The city was receiving about $6.5 million annually from its redevelopment agency, she said, and the positive effects remain. The Honda dealership and other projects created the expected jobs and the new city aquatic center expected to break ground soon will be partially funded by monies left over from the former RDA, Piedra added.

Education.....from page three

Holtville High School had the highest metric of "A to G" completion, which are students taking college-tracked courses along with the most financial aid applications completed, Finnell added. Finnell singled out Ellen Okada, recipient of the 2018 Above and Beyond Award, for forging ahead on the frontiers of education achievement. Introducing Okada to the audience was Victor Jaime, president of Imperial Valley

College, who noted her long devotion to teaching prior to becoming a counselor positively affected many lives.

"Ellen works tirelessly to get students to graduate and ready for the real world," said Jaime.

Okada admitted the recognition took her by surprise.

"What is most satisfying is seeing students graduate with a path in mind for a future. But it doesn't matter what their path is, as long as they are focused on a course," she said.

Finnell extolled Borderlink, the faster wireless network infrastructure. The pilot program launched to connect Brawley, El Centro, Heber and Seeley will eventually build out to serve 35,000 students countywide. The system provides long-term evolution technology that complements existing fiber-optic infrastructure throughout the county connecting schools and agencies to each other and the Internet. This way even when students walk away from school they still stay connected, Finnell explained.

Although he said it is difficult to imagine what 2030 will look like, Finnell commended McCabe Union Elementary School District for its forward thinking. The district is turning students into lifelong learners through four innovative opportunities: McCabe News videos posted to the Internet; the Genius Hour, a collaboration on pet student projects; STEM with hands-on projects, and cyber safety and security training.

"ICOE is preparing students for a world constantly evolving and jobs that may not even exist yet," said Finnell. "We want you to be ready for wherever life may take you."

Graduation is right around the corner.

Reasons for running and top issues: As District Attorney, I have been a leader in advancing public safety through smart, fair and equal criminal justice. I work with every component of the criminal justice system to ensure offenders are held accountable, victims are protected and the rights of everyone are respected.

I am aware crime is often committed against the most vulnerable. I formed a Special Victims Unit consisting of attorneys, investigators and advocates to prosecute sexual assault, child abuse and exploitation cases. Under my leadership, the Victim Witness Assistance Program tripled the number of advocates, which allowed us to provide direct services to more victims, including victims present at the mass shooting in Las Vegas. My office developed protocols for the identification, investigation and prosecution of domestic violence cases using a victim-centered approach. I also obtained a comfort dog to work directly with crime victims and accompany them to court.

I formed the District Attorney Bureau of Investigations, assigned investigators to aid local law enforcement and placed investigators at the local prisons to streamline the procedure for prosecuting prison crimes. I implemented a Crime Strategies Initiative utilizing data to focus on stricter penalties for excessive repeat offenders. In 2017, we had a conviction rate of 90% on felony cases taken to trial.

I recognize the evolving role of prosecutors and am committed to implementing outreach programs for school, community and faith-based organizations. I assigned prosecutors, investigators and advocates to teach Project LEAD in fifth grade classrooms in Calipatria, Brawley, Imperial, Holtville, Seeley and Calexico. Reasons for running and top issues: My name is Edgard Garcia and I am running to be the Imperial County District Attorney. I have served the residents of Imperial County in many ways throughout my career. I have run a thriving law office in the city of El Centro, participated on the board of directors of several local non-profit organizations, and proudly served as a city council member for the city of El Centro. I have a B.S degree from UCSB in chemistry and a law degree from California Western School of Law. I believe that my education, experience, and desire to further serve the community I call home has prepared me to be Imperial County's next district attorney. As the Imperial County District Attorney I would focus my efforts on the prosecution of serious and violent crimes. I would work closely with local law enforcement to make sure our community is safe. I would keep an active presence in our community and ensure that everyone has access to the district attorney and that their voices are heard. Victim's rights would be at the forefront of my mission and I would strive for equal justice for all.

their regular business hours, Tuesday through Saturday from 12 to 8 p.m. at the Ocotillo Plaza, 1560 Ocotillo Drive Suite H. Metahumans Comics owner Ruben Najera, and Hi Box Skate Shop owner Shawn Acosta are both Imperial Valley natives with Najera hailing from El Centro and Acosta from Holtville. Both entrepreneurs are heavily invested in local Imperial Valley pop and skate culture. The grand opening event for their combined El Centro storefront coincided with Free Comic Book day.

Najera said, "The BMX kid from Holtville seemed really inspired by our visit. It was really cool. The mayor thanked us for opening (our store) in El Centro." Valencia said, "We offer drawing, craft and painting classes (at the Metahuman/Hi Box storefront). Thank you for all the support. The Imperial Valley needs more brick and mortar stores. We'll be bring-
